Why Customers Love the Program

- Stop paying fees on one-off deposits

One-time wallet deposits typically include processing or convenience fees. With recurring deposits, those fees go away so more of your budget goes directly to hiring outcomes.

- Keep hiring moving

Delays between steps like posting, screening, outreach, and scheduling lead to candidate drop-off. Recurring funding helps you maintain momentum and avoid “we’ll do it next week” slowdowns that cost you candidates.

- Stay ready when hiring spikes

Hiring demand comes in waves. Recurring deposits help you build a surplus during slower periods so when needs spike, you can move immediately instead of waiting on approvals or budget.

- Make budgeting easier

A predictable monthly or quarterly deposit simplifies forecasting, reduces surprises, and gives you more control over hiring spend.

Best for Teams That

- Continuously hire throughout the year
- Want to stay prepared for unexpected openings
- Prefer consistent, controlled hiring spend
- Need faster execution with fewer admin bottlenecks
- Don’t want recruiting to pause while budgets catch up
